

Intel Computer Club in Jakkur village

Bangalore: The second Intel Computer Clubhouse (ICC) was launched at the Children's Lovecastles Trust in Jakkur village, where underprivileged children get access to computers and learn skills in several fields. The Clubhouse, with 32 computers, caters to over 1,200 school children from 16 schools in the vicinity. The children learn through teamwork using the PC as a tool for learning. They create digital artwork, write, edit their own short movies and work on community focused projects as, Debjani Ghosh of Intel said.
